

Professional Liability

At Burr & Forman, we understand all the professional liability issues that face health care professionals, accountants, attorneys, broker/dealers, architects, engineers, insurance agents, and bankers including insurance liability and ethics concerns. If we can resolve the dispute you face through arbitration or mediation, we'll compose a settlement that's advantageous to you. If it's necessary to go to court, we are defenders of architects and engineers (in delay claims, malpractice allegations, design disputes, and wrongful death claims), attorneys (allegations from malpractice to criminal tax fraud), physicians and health care professionals (malpractice), and securities broker/dealers (allegations of churning, inappropriate risk, and fraud). Our attorneys represent officers, directors, and managing partners of corporations (both profit and not-for-profit) and professional partnerships who have been sued for various errors, omissions, and breaches of the corporate trust.

We defend clients in matters related to:

- Directors & officers
- Errors & omissions
- Medical malpractice
