

Burr & Forman’s Gail Mills Named to Birmingham Business Journal’s “Who’s Who in Banking”

Firm News
04.03.2023

Birmingham partner Gail Livingston Mills has been recognized by the Birmingham Business Journal as a “Who’s Who in Banking” for the second year in a row. This year’s list represents top-tier leaders, from CEOs to attorneys, in the banking industry.

Gail has been practicing law since 1985 with a focus on various commercial real estate transactions, representing both lenders and developers. She has significant experience in representing banks and institutional lenders in retail, health care, multi-family, office, and industrial loan transactions, as well as commercial foreclosures/deed in lieu, workouts and restructures of defaulted real estate loans, receivership proceedings, and defaulted bond issues. Gail is a member of American College of Real Estate Attorneys and was recently elected to Board of Governors of this national organization.

Birmingham Business Journal subscribers may view the full “Who’s Who in Banking” list here.

RELATED PROFESSIONALS

Gail Livingston Mills

RELATED CAPABILITIES

Financial Institutions

Financial Services