Birmingham, AL – August 23, 2021 – Burr & Forman is pleased to announce that Ginger Busby has been selected to serve on the Board of Governors of the American Bar Association (ABA).

Ginger Busby, a partner at the firm's Birmingham office, is a litigator with over 30 years of experience. She represents manufacturing and insurance clients in evaluating risk, developing strategy, and in litigation and regulatory matters. She handles various types of product liability and commercial and construction disputes. Ginger also has extensive legal industry involvement and leadership experience. She served as the Alabama state Delegate in the ABA House of Delegates, Chair of the ABA Section Officers Conference and is a past Chair of the ABA Tort Trial and Insurance Practice Section (TIPS). Ginger also served for several years as the head of the Litigation section for the Alabama State Bar as well as serving in numerous other leadership roles for organizations over the years.

About her involvement with the ABA, Ginger says, "I have been committed to the profession, the American Bar Association and the Rule of Law for my entire legal career. I am honored to serve on the ABA Board of Governors, which will provide the opportunity to help facilitate the voice of the profession. Since law school, I have always considered the American Bar Association to be the professional organization for lawyers. The ABA helps lawyers not only invest in their intellect, it gives them the ability to serve, network, and support the profession."
