Will Campbell was recognized among Columbia Business Monthly's 2023 Best & Brightest 25 and Under, celebrating rising professionals making a difference in South Carolina. Campbell is among 33 professionals on this year's list and will be recognized at an October event in Columbia.

Campbell shared with the publication that he has wanted to be an attorney as long as he can remember. "Since becoming an attorney, I've gotten the opportunity to argue motions in front of a judge, draft pleadings, and help clients close deals in excess of $100 million," he said. "I've helped a client expand their portfolio across the country and acquire properties from Florida, to Atlanta, to Denver, to the West Coast!"

Looking forward, Campbell's long-term focus is to continue helping clients succeed in their business endeavors while representing Burr & Forman and helping its continued growth throughout the Southeast. He also shared his perspective on what makes for a successful leader: "A person who has the trust and confidence of the people around them to show up and get whatever done that is needed."
